

Brent Higgins

DAY FIVE:

When you are young, you spend a lot of time looking forward to the future. When you are old, you spend a lot of time re-living the past. At what point do you begin to live in the moment? Is it possible to make a difference for Christ if you reside anywhere else?

In Exodus 24:12, God called Moses to “come up to me on the mountain and stay here.” His words implied that He wanted Moses to come to the mountain top and live in that moment with Him. He did not want Moses worrying about the Israelites left behind at the foot of the mountain, and He didn’t want him fretting over what might happen when he returned. God wanted Moses to come up and just reside in his presence!

Do we do that? Do we just rest in God’s presence in the moments that He draws us? Or do we get there and think about homework, work, relationships, chores, etc. There are those times when the Lord draws you to His presence and wants you to just be there with Him. Clear your mind of all the clutter of life, and focus just on Jesus! Who is He? Who is He calling you to be? What does He want from you? What does His perfection look like in your life? Do you know how to be alone with Him and let Him move in your life? Do you hear from God?

He has much to say to you, but you must slow down and be with Him. When you live in the moment with Him, your life will look like His. You will see clearly what He desires and find the strength to live it out. If you reside anywhere else, your life will look like...the world.